

Standard 1: Rights

The rights of people affected by mental disorders and/or mental health are upheld by the MHS

Created by Yvonne Shipp, Mental Health Association, Shoalhaven

The symbol of the scales represents justice or fair play. Justice is the basis of Democracy. Rights are based on justice and fair play and are inherent in every democracy, and hopefully safeguard every citizen of our nation.

The Standard 'Rights' ensure consumers of mental health services are treated as citizens rather than passive recipients of the service.
